Athletics Ministry

(As long as it is day, we must do the work of him who sent us. John 9:4)

Statement of Purpose

A.M. means “ante meridiem” which means “before noon”. Loosely used, it means daytime.

For us Christians, it is still the A.M. And since it is still day time, we are to be doing the things God has for us to do while we are still on the earth...

Trinity Lutheran School exists to provide the opportunity for children to develop, through the power of the Holy Spirit, a childlike faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, a greater love for God, and compassion for others.

Trinity’s Athletics Ministry promotes this philosophy through the interscholastic sports program. Through participation, the student will further develop spiritually, mentally, emotionally, physically, and socially. Student-athletes are encouraged to be the best they can be, by doing the best they can do, to the glory of God.

Conference Affiliation

Trinity is a member of the Iowa District East Lutheran Schools Athletic Conference (IDELSAC). The conference consists of Lutheran schools in the eastern half of Iowa, from Interstate 35 on the west to the Mississippi River on the east. The conference follows Iowa High School Athletic Association and Iowa High School Girls Athletic Union rules and guidelines except where the IDELSAC has chosen to differ.

Program Focus

The focus of the fifth-sixth grade programs is to provide students with an introduction to the various sports offered at Trinity, the opportunity to participate in them, and the chance to begin developing the skills needed to play those sports. Coaches will make every effort to provide all student-athletes equal playing time through the first three-fourths of the athletic contest. Coaches may implement strategic substitution in the last one-fourth of all athletic contests and for all tournament play.

The focus of the seventh-eighth grade programs is to provide the opportunity to participate in the sports offered at Trinity, to further develop the skills needed to play those sports, and to learn to compete. Playing time at the seventh-eighth grade level may not be equal.

Goals

1. To glorify Jesus Christ in all that is done on and off the playing field and/or court, and to understand how the use of one's physical skills can be a form of worship.
2. To help student-athletes establish a stronger relationship with Jesus Christ.
3. To help student-athletes realize the importance of other people in their lives and the value of working co-operatively with them.
4. To help student-athletes improve their ability to make critical decisions quickly, even under pressure.
5. To help student-athletes express emotions appropriately, and not allow those emotions control them or make them ineffective people.
6. To help the student-athlete improve their overall physical condition and specific athletic skills.
7. To help the student-athlete to understand the sport in which they are engaged and the rules that govern it.
8. To provide a positive athletic experience for each student-athlete to encourage a lifelong enjoyment of sports and recreational activities.
9. To promote school spirit.

Participation

1. Student-athletes participating in interscholastic sports activities at Trinity must submit a completed Parent Consent form (provided by the school) to the athletic director before they may participate in interscholastic sports activities.
2. Student-athletes must submit a Physical Examination form (provided by the school) signed by a licensed physician, to the effect that the physician has examined the student-athlete and that the student-athlete may safely engage in athletic competition. This form must be returned to the athletic director before the student will be allowed to participate in practice sessions or interscholastic competitions. Physical examinations are valid for twelve months.
3. Trinity Lutheran School does not provide individual insurance coverage for those students involved in interscholastic sports.
4. A student-athlete may participate in more than one sport at Trinity in a given season at his/her parents' discretion.
5. It is the position of Trinity Lutheran School that the sport in season offered at Trinity takes precedence over a non-interscholastic activity. If a Trinity student-athlete participates in a non-interscholastic activity while simultaneously playing on a Trinity team, participation on the Trinity team must come first. This means if there is a schedule conflict, the Trinity game or practice must be attended. Missing part or all of a Trinity practice or game due to participation in a non-interscholastic activity constitutes an unexcused absence. Each unexcused absence will result in the student-athlete sitting out one-fourth of the next game.

6. Seventh and eighth grade student-athletes may participate on varsity teams only. Fifth and sixth grade student-athletes may participate on junior varsity teams only. However, if there are an insufficient number of seventh and eighth grade players on the varsity team, a junior varsity student-athlete may play up on the varsity team.
7. A student-athlete must take an active part in a given day's physical education class if he/she wishes to participate in that day's scheduled athletic practices or contests. A student who is exempted from gym classes by a doctor will not be allowed to participate in any interscholastic athletic activities.
8. If a student-athlete is not in school due to illness, that individual may not participate in practices or games that day.

Academic Requirements for Participation

Academic achievement is a priority at Trinity; therefore, academic standards must be maintained by student-athletes to participate in a given sport. Those who fail to do so may be placed on probation or suspension.

Academic Suspension

Student-athletes who have an F or three D's in their school subjects over a given three week period will be suspended from participating in practices and games for a period of one week.

Should a student-athlete fail to meet the academic requirements for participating in extra-curricular activities a second time during a sports season, the suspension will be for two weeks.

A student-athlete who fails to meet the academic requirements for participating in extra-curricular activities for a third time during a sports season will be dismissed from the team.

Practice

1. Coaches will provide parents with a practice schedule prior to the onset of the season. Coaches will also provide updates to parents and student-athletes to inform them of schedule changes.
2. Junior Varsity teams will not practice more than two times per week, and practice sessions will not exceed one hour and thirty minutes.
3. Varsity teams will not practice more than four times per week, and practice sessions will not exceed two hours.
4. Practice sessions must be completed by 4:30 P.M. on Wednesdays.
5. Parents must realize that with limited gym space and availability, coaches may call evening, Saturday and/or Sunday practices.

Transportation

Parents are responsible for securing transportation for their child to all interscholastic events in which they participate.

Administration

The Athletic Director has the overall responsibility for the coordination and implementation of all sports programs within Trinity Lutheran School. The Athletic Director in conjunction with the Athletic Committee has full authority to develop and implement detailed guidelines for all aspects of the Athletics Ministry.

The Athletic Director works with the Athletic Committee and reports to the School Principal and the Board of Christian School. Team coaches report to the Athletic Director.

General Responsibilities of the Athletic Director

1. Serve as a Christian example of fair play and good sportsmanship.
2. Execute Athletic Ministry policies as established by Board of Christian School and outlined in Athletics Ministry Handbook.
3. Secure coaches for the various sports programs and hold a preseason meeting with all coaches to go over expectations.
4. Schedule and approve all athletic activities.
5. Secure facilities for interscholastic activities.
6. Hire game officials for all interscholastic activities.
7. Line up scorekeepers, timers, and other personnel for interscholastic contests.
8. Order new equipment and maintain existing equipment.
9. Be available for pre-season parent meetings.

General Responsibilities of Team Coaches

1. Serve as Christian example of fair play and good sportsmanship both on and off the playing field and court. Emphasize the glory of God over school and self.
2. Conduct a pre-season meeting with parents of student-athletes who are participating in the given sport, and distribute a copy of team guidelines, coach's expectations, and practice and game schedules.

3. Organize and execute practice sessions in conjunction with practice times coordinated with the athletic director.
4. Provide supervision for student-athletes after practices and games until they are picked up by a parent or guardian.
5. Attend all games and be responsible for the conduct of the team.
6. Make new equipment needs known to the athletic director and care for existing equipment used in the sport coached.
7. Coaches are responsible for having signed medical release and transportations forms at all practices and games.
8. Coaches must participate in a post season meeting with the Athletic Director.

General Responsibilities of Parents

Parents and guardians are a strong influential factor in their child's decision to become an athlete. Use your child's experience as a chance to be involved in his or her life.

At Trinity, we expect our students to put academics ahead of athletics. Parents play a vital role in helping their child maintain a balance between the two. Parents can help their child become a well balanced student-athlete by carrying out the following principles.

1. Be a positive role model by exemplifying a Christian attitude towards all. Our school will support and reinforce positive Christian values that are taught in the home.
2. Assist their child in establishing proper priorities with respect to church, family, peers, study habits, and participation in extracurricular activities.

3. Encourage and participate in the development of their student-athlete's abilities.
4. Support their student-athlete's commitment to their team.
5. Encourage their student-athlete to accept responsibility for their actions and the actions of their team.
6. Encourage good health habits towards food, sleep, and exercise. Discourage the use of tobacco, alcohol, and drugs.
7. Show their support of their student-athlete, their team, and the Athletics Ministry by attending sporting events, and volunteering for concessions, clean up, and other areas of service.
8. Acknowledge outstanding effort, teamwork, and good sportsmanship. Praise your child for trying hard and competing fairly.
9. Support and encourage the coach. Show respect for his/her coaching decisions and refrain from criticism while in the stands or at home with the student-athlete. Refrain from coaching the student-athletes during games and practices.
10. Show respect for officials and opposing players, coaches, and spectators.
11. Get your student-athlete to practices and games on time and pick them up on time.

Parent concerns should be addressed at the appropriate time and place. They should never be addressed before, during, or immediately after a contest. If a parent has concerns they would like to address, they should first speak with the team coach. If an issue between a parent and coach is not satisfactorily resolved, the Athletic Director will then become involved.

Parents need to remember that all coaches are volunteers and are giving their time to help make Trinity's Athletics Ministry a positive experience for each student-athlete.

A Christian Sports Parent's Creed

I understand God has made my child unique; therefore, my child has his/her own gifts and develops at his/her own pace. I will support the development of my child's unique gifts and abilities.

I understand my child has his/her own goals in sports and in other aspects of life. I will support those goals and keep them separate from my own.

I understand I reflect my child's feeling about himself/herself. I will value my child, and show respect and compassion, so he/she will know I love him/her for who they are and not for what they do.

I understand my actions and words have an impact on my child's behavior. My behavior in the stands or on the sidelines is as important as my child's behavior on the court or field.

I understand attaching blame to outside factors such as luck, fate, officials, teammates, or the coach teaches a lack of responsibility for one's actions. I will be an example to my child by taking responsibility for my own actions.

I understand sports should enhance and not dominate my child's life. I will help my child maintain balance in his/her life and will not place undue pressure on him/her to perform and excel.

I understand the other children on the playing field or court are as equally as important and as special as my child. I will show them love, support, encouragement, respect, and blessing.

I understand my child's coach needs my support and encouragement. Our common interest is the well-being of my child. I will support and encourage the coach, permit him/her to do the coaching, refrain from criticizing, and share any concerns I have with the coach privately.

As a Christian sports parent, I pledge to value my child as a whole person. My goal is to accept and understand my child spiritually, mentally, emotionally, physically, and socially.

Since life in JESUS CHRIST is not lived apart from the physical, emotional, mental, and social stresses of life, there is indeed a necessity for various ministries including that of athletics.

This challenging ministry, like all others, cannot be carried out perfectly. As in anything else, there will be moments of failure. However, when failure is experienced, we have the assurance that God's grace in JESUS CHRIST covers all our sins and mistakes. In that knowledge and in the assurance that the Lord is ever ready to grant forgiveness and strength to serve, we can with confidence be involved in the Athletics Ministry.

As long as it is day, we must do the work of Him who sent us.
